Strike at New Depot.

Union men to the number of 200 laid down their tools yesterday afternoon at the new union depot in Washington and walked out. Building operations were brought to an immediate standstill, and for a time it appeared that the work on the huge structure would be delived indefinitely. The trouble came at 2:30 o'clock, when it was discovered that a subcontractor, engaged in placing roofs on the umbrella sheds, was employing three or four men who do not carry union cards. The five or six union men employed on this i h refused to work with the nonunion employees, and a sympathetic strike was immediately instituted among the bricklayers, stone masons, structural iron workers, hoisting engineers, and hod carriers. Upon the promise of the subcontractor that the nonunion men will be kept away from the work until after Thursday, at which time the dispute will be arbitrated, the striking men agreed to appear for work this morning, and company officers anti-cipate no further trouble.

Accused Dismissed.

Among the cases before Justice Pelton in the Police Court this morning was that of Philip Carter, colored, who had been arrested by Officer Nicholsoff at the instance of Jeannette Miller, colored, charged with killing geese belonging to the plaintiff. The latter in her statement endeavored to fasten the charge upon a white woman, a neighbor, rather then upon Carter. She said that seven geese belonging to her had been poisoned and she charged the white woman with being juinical to her because the complainant refused to do something she had requested. The white woman in her defense said the colored woman, after the geese had been poisoned, visited a fortuneteller and that the "revelations" of the latter had led up to Jeannette's action. There was no eridence against the woman or Carter, and the justice dismissed the accused.
